

UNITED STATES TO REMAIN AT PEACE

President Wilson Gives First Intimation of Position on Lusitania Affair.

BELIEVES FORCE ISN'T NEEDED

Chief Executive Tells Philadelphia Audience There Is Such a Thing As a Man Being Too Proud to Fight.

Philadelphia, May 11.—President Wilson gave to a gathering of 4,000 naturalized Americans last night the first intimation of what course the United States government will pursue in the situation resulting from the loss of more than a hundred American lives on the British liner Lusitania.

He spoke by implication, but his hearers interpreted his remarks, as meaning that while the United States would remain at peace, it would seek to convince Germany of the injustice to mankind of the tragedy of last Friday.

"America," said the President, "must have the consciousness that on all sides it touches elbows and touches hearts with all nations of mankind. The example of America must be a special example and must be an example not merely of peace, because it will not fight, but because peace is a healing and elevating influence of the world and strife is not."

"There is such a thing as a man being too proud to fight. There is such a thing as being so right that it does not need to convince others by force that it is right."

These remarks precipitated a tumult of applause and patriotic enthusiasm attended by a waving of thousands of small American flags. The President made no direct reference to the Lusitania tragedy, but the audience did not hesitate to read the application of his statement.

The sentiment expressed in the President's speech was epitomized later by one of his closest advisers as "humanity first." While it had not yet been determined, he said, exactly what steps would be taken by the United States in the present crisis, the idea uppermost in the President's mind was to show that whatever is adopted—no matter how vigorous—it will have as its objective the good of humanity.

FRANK IS SENTENCED AGAIN

Alleged Slayer of Mary Phagan to Be Hung at Atlanta, Ga., June 22—Declares His Innocence.

Atlanta, May 11.—Leo M. Frank today was resented to be hanged on Tuesday, June 22, for the murder of Mary Phagan, a factory girl. Sentence was passed by Judge Benjamin H. Hill of the Fulton County Superior Court. Mary Phagan was killed April 26, 1913. Before sentence was pronounced Frank made a statement to the court reiterating his declarations of innocence.

"Again I stand before you," he said. "Again I can but reiterate that I am innocent of the murder of Mary Phagan. I have absolutely no guilty knowledge of that tragic occurrence."

"I am innocent of this charge and I assert that the record of the evidence conclusively proves this. No appellate tribunal has ever passed upon this evidence. The only judge who has ever heard it stated that he had the most serious doubts as to my guilt. My execution will not avenge Mary Phagan's death. A life will have been taken for a life, but the real culprit will not have paid the penalty. I will suffer for another's crime."

BRITISH JURY BLAMES KAISER

Coroner's Inquest Over Lusitania Victims Charges German Government with Willful Murder.

Kinsale, Ireland, May 11.—The coroner's jury which has been investigating the deaths attendant upon the loss of the Lusitania returned the following verdict today:

"The jury finds that this appalling crime was contrary to international law and the conventions of all civilized nations, and we therefore charge the officers of the submarine and the German Emperor and all the government of Germany under whose orders they acted with the crime of willful and wholesale murder."

The captain stated that he was on the bridge when the vessel was approaching the Irish coast.

"Was the Lusitania armed?" asked Coroner John Horgan.

"She was not," quickly answered the veteran commander.

JAPANESE GIVE IN TO CHINA

Group 5 of the Demands Officially Withdrawn—Were Obnoxious to the Powers.

Tokio, May 8.—Peace between Japan and China was assured yesterday when group 5 of the Japanese demands, most obnoxious to China and other powers, was officially withdrawn.

With this important concession on the part of Japan, and the reported acceptance by China of Japan's other demands, peace seems certain. A cessation of Japan's warlike preparations was expected to follow yesterday's official announcement.

Group 5 of the Japanese demands, according to the text handed the Chinese government in February, contained seven articles providing for Japanese advisers in Chinese political, financial and military affairs and other comprehensive concessions.

In presenting its ultimatum to China, Japan omitted all items in group 5 of the amended lists of demands, with the exception of the portion dealing with concessions in Fokien, on which an agreement already has been reached. The demands in group 5 are reserved for future discussion.

WENT DOWN WITH LUSITANIA

Several Persons Prominent in New York's Business or Social Life Are Reported Missing.

New York, May 10.—Many persons notable in the business or social life of New York city were among those whose names were missing from the list of survivors of the Lusitania made public by the line here and at Queens-town.

Of those reported lost Alfred G. Vanderbilt is one of the most widely known. Inheriting the bulk of the estate of his father, estimated at $70,000,000 to $100,000,000, he is one of the wealthiest men of New York.

Elbert Hubbard, editor of the Philistine, author of essays and publisher at East Aurora, N. Y., is known throughout the country as "Fra Elbertus." He intended to conduct an investigation of the war and was accompanied by Mrs. Hubbard.

Charles Frohman, theatrical manager and producer, was accompanied by Justus Miles Forman, playwright and author. Charles Klein, one of the best known American playwrights, also accompanied Mr. Frohman. Mr. Frohman's body has been recovered.

JURY ACQUITS MRS. CARMAN

Verdict Returned After An Hour's Deliberation in Sensational Mineola, N. Y. Murder Case.

Mineola, N. Y., May 10.—One hour's deliberation was sufficient for the jury which had the fate of Mrs. Florence Carman in its power to return a verdict late Saturday acquitting the wife of the Freeport physician of the charge of murdering Mrs. Louise Bailey. The court's charge was unusually favorable to the defendant. Eight months ago twelve men debated eighteen hours without agreement.

Mrs. Bailey was killed by a bullet fired from a revolver put through a window in Doctor Carman's office. The prosecution sought to prove Mrs. Carman's "unreasonable jealousy" of her husband as a motive.

LABOR WAR IS SPREADING

Association of Construction Employers Threatens to Lockout 15,000 Hodcarriers in Chicago.

Chicago, May 7.—Chicago's building trades troubles, which already have resulted in the idleness of more than 160,000 skilled and unskilled workers through lockouts or strikes, yesterday threatened to become more involved when a lockout of 15,000 members of the hodcarriers' and building laborers' union seemed imminent. The men yesterday formally entered their refusal to accept a uniform wage agreement with the Building Employers' Construction Association.

1,137 PERSONS PERISH WHEN THE LUSITANIA SINKS

Great Liner Victim of German Submarine While Nearing End of Her Voyage to Great Britain.

THIS NATION AROUSED

United States in Grave Crisis and Country Looks to the President for Guidance in Most Serious Trouble of Decade.

The Lusitania was sunk by a German submarine torpedo boat near Queenstown, Ireland, on Friday, May 7, while on her way from New York to Liverpool. The great steamer left New York with 1,901 persons aboard, and 1,137 of this number died in the disaster. In the list of dead are about 190 Americans. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Charles Frohman and Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Hubbard went down with the ship.

Horror Sweeps World.

A flood of indignation and horror swept the civilized world, except Germany and Austria, when the news of the disaster became known. It is held by all neutral countries without exception that Germany violated the laws of humanity and nations in attacking the passenger vessel without giving any warning. The Lusitania was unarmed. In her hold she carried about $200,000 worth of contraband goods, including cartridges, copper, chemicals and wire.

President Wilson and the administration are face to face with what is generally considered the most critical situation that has confronted the nation since the Civil War. Germany was warned by the United States last January that she would be held to strict accountability for the loss of life to Americans who might be traveling the high seas, whether in neutral merchant vessels or in merchant vessels belonging to a belligerent government.

Citizens to the Front.

It is now up to the United States to back its statement. Churches all over the land are offering prayers that the President may be guided by wisdom and temperance in his action with regard to Germany. Political leaders of all parties, newspapers of all shades of political faith, and thousands of common folk in all parts of the land are expressing faith in President Wilson's decision and asserting their will to act as he directs, in telegrams which have been flooding the White House since the crisis came up.

Yet, upon Germany's reply to the American protest against the sinking of the American steamer Gulfight, rather than upon its explanation of the sinking of the Lusitania, will depend the future attitude of this government toward Germany.

The sinking of the Lusitania was the result of a definite program approved by the German government with a view to creating a "reign of terror" on the high seas. The American government has learned there will be no abandonment of this policy so far as British ships are concerned. They will be sunk whenever possible, regardless of the number and nationality of passengers on board, without warning and without regard to international law.

Is America Included?

What this government wants to know is whether the program of sinking all British ships within the "war zone" without warning and without giving the passengers a chance to take to the boats has been extended to American merchant ships. If this should be admitted by the German government, in reply to the Gulfight protest, it would be virtually equivalent to a declaration of war by Germany against the United States.

President Wilson is not unmindful of the arguments that the German government would find considerable advantage in being at war with the United States. It would probably stop the shipment of arms and ammunition to the Allies. The American army is negligible in size and the added strength of the American navy would make little difference in the long run.

Furthermore, the bitterness of the Allies makes it certain when if Germany is ultimately crushed the peace terms will be harsh, while if the United States were to be a participant in the peace treaty the influence of this country would probably prevent the dismemberment of the German empire.

Looking for Ancestors.

The Rambler is in receipt of a letter from a Washington lady asking information regarding the Newman and Alvey families of Prince Georges county, Md. She says: "I have been reading with much interest your articles in the Sunday Star, and as the account in today's pertains mostly to my native county, Prince Georges, I would ask you if in any of your rambles through that country you have chanced across any member of the Newman family."

She is in search of facts relating to Horatio Newman, who served in the War of 1812 and who has been dead about fifty years. She does not know in what part of Prince Georges he lived and owned land, or where he was born or where buried. There is a family tradition that his wife's name was Eliza Alvey and that she was an adopted daughter of a member of the Magruder family which lived near Oxon Hill.—Washington Star.

You Can Never Tell.

In a train of the Paris Metro, or subway, the attention of other passengers was attracted to a pretty young woman dressed as a Red Cross nurse. Presently a soldier entered the car—a soldier with his head almost completely enveloped in bandages. The young woman flew to him and asked in a voice full of maternal solicitude: "You have been wounded, poor boy." The mumbled reply of the soldier was:

"Naw. I've got toothache."
